YativasLaughingAtYou, known primarily as Yativas is a retired LARPer, former content creator, infamous Cumball member, and present Nyadmin of Cumball. He is known for punishing members of Cumball, and doing many other shameless things for his own enjoyment. He created his Discord account in 2019, enjoying many years of talking in voice chat and insulting other people for his amusement, but as of 2024 he considers himself retired from roleplaying, Discord, and VC, shifting his focus from being an internet funny guy to being a serious family man and loving father figure to his children.

Origin

Yativas' real name is Nick.[2)] He was born in the late 80s to a loving family in the United States. He had a very desirable life, being an honor student and being quite a popular and well-known student in both middle and high school.

In 2017, he would start a YouTube channel (now deleted) where he would post videos of himself playing video games like Call of Duty and Overwatch. They didn't get many views, but he didn't care much, using the channel as more of a diary or a video game clip repository than a means to get popular. However, he would slowly pivot towards just clipping anything he found interesting and entertaining, which made his channel gain a sizable following. Most of the clips he found entertaining were of him insulting people in video game voice chat and laughing at their reactions. These clips would become the most viewed videos on his channel, so he changed the name of it to YativasLaughingAtYou, to be more fitting. The username stuck and would be carried to his Discord account which would be created in 2019.

Enjoyment of VC

Yativas was and possibly still is an avid enjoyer of voice chat. He has stated on many occasions that he enjoys talking in VC more than typing, mostly because it allows him the ability to employ sarcasm and do things he can't do through text alone. This enjoyment peaked when he created his own Discord server which would host VC talk sessions multiple times a week. In this server, he would befriend many people in the roleplayer space and beyond, one notable person being Lo-Fi Playlist. Eventually, however, the server would slowly die out because Yativas didn't have the time to personally attend every session, and he was many members' only reason for being in a session due to his infectious laugh, sharp wit, and dark sense of humor.

Roleplaying

Yativas has enjoyed roleplaying since before the Yativas persona was created and even well after, regarding roleplaying as one of the most impactful and memorable interactive art forms. It's unknown the personality, accounts used, or even the gender of the characters he played, but he mostly did it for his own entertainment while he had the time.

Retirement from Roleplaying

While he did enjoy roleplaying very much, and befriended many people in the roleplaying space, Yativas decided to quit roleplaying due to a lack of interest in it, a lack of meaningful or entertaining reactions from others, and his shrinking free time due to his relationship with his then-girlfriend becoming serious and his career moving forward and demanding more time, effort, and energy from him.

Enjoyment of black women

Yativas is known for enjoying interracial porn, and black women. The majority of the porn he sends to other consenting adults is of real or cartoon black women being screwed by white men, and when he is asked about the source of his porn, his most frequent answer is something along the lines of it being from his own collection. His love for black women in his porn leads many to believe that his wife is black and that his children are mixed race, but when he is asked if his wife is black or not, he refuses to give an answer, seemingly on purpose to keep the mystery alive. There is no evidence that his wife is black, as she has not spoken with him in VC directly nor has she been definitively identified through other means as being black.

Enjoyment of Tsukinoki Tirol

Yativas' current profile picture is fanart of the Japanese Jackalope VTuber Tsukinoki Tirol doing a thinking pose, and his previous profile picture was a still of her laughing in one of her streams. He's stated on many occasions that she is his favorite VTuber despite the language barrier between them. When he mentioned her in the past he spelled her name as “Tirol Tsunukinoki”. It is unknown if he misspelled her name on purpose, if that was a nickname he called her, did it on purpose so people would correct him[3], or if he forgot how her name was exactly spelled.
