Kroatische Doge¹⁾, frequently shortened to just Doge is the de facto head admin of the Cumball Discord server after Meow stepped down, making him the only head admin to date. He is known for being a rambunctious Croatian HOI4 player who frequently changes the nicknames of users to the names of prominent political figures. He is in full control of the bot Dyno in the server, a fact that he takes pride in as he has refused from when he gained control to the present day to give control of the bot to others.

Despite being the head admin and threatening to do many harmful things throughout his tenure, he has seldom actually done abusive things to users, the server, or anything else he has control over, making him very trustworthy and dependable to both regular users and the owner of the server. His actions are mostly harmless pranks for entertainment value, but can be annoying to certain users.

He is considered one of Filled With Nothing's closest friends like Meow and other select few. At one point Doge decided to delete one of the server's channels for losing a game of chess or something²⁾ which violated the trust between him and Filled, as Filled was and still is an avid preservationist. Because of that, Doge would temporarily lose his Admin status, but it has since been restored like the trust between them. This event is seldom highlighted unlike most other significant events in the server.

Origin

His dad fucked his mom and he came out lmao. He joined Cumball's precursor the Reggie server and like became a mod there idk (Expand)

Personality

Doge is known for being well-versed in politics and frequently makes mention to them. He is presumed to not consider himself a politician and instead uses politics as a way to show his wit and provide humor. He is also a seasoned strategist whose favorite games consist of HOI4 and Chess which are both strategy games.

Voice

Doge is confirmed to be bilingual, able to speak his native Croatian as well as English, but his English does have a hefty Croatian accent to it, which makes him very unique among the vocal users of Cumball and beyond.

¹⁾

Kroatische is the German word for Croatian and is pronounced kroh-AH-tee-shuh
