Interestsroleplaying, trolling

Pao⁵⁾, also known as Paopanda, and as Skittle-chan when she roleplayed as her, is a former roleplayer and veteran member of the Cumball Discord server. She is the originator of the phrase “nyadmin” to refer to Cumball's server admins when she joined in July 2021 begging for admin. Intrigued, the server owner Filled With Nothing would give her a role by the name “nyadmin”, and it would eventually become the name of the server admin role in the server. The Discord account she used to join Cumball and be active within it is considered an abandoned alt account. Her main Discord account is still unknown.

Origin

Pao was born in 2002 or 2003 to an Asian-american household. Much later on, possibly in the mid-late 2010s, she would meet her (relevant) friends Dolby and fruit. She would enjoy trolling them and trolling with them. They became very close friends which allowed her to divulge sensitive details about them when asked. In 2021 she would begin to roleplay as Skittle-chan, a gag character from the Discord YouTuber Beluga out of boredom.

Her main profile picture when not roleplaying is usually art of Kurumi Nanase, also known as Menhera-chan created by the Japanese company Joynet and the company's illustrator Pom (ぽむ) to use as stickers in the LINE messenger app and for merchandise. Internet users frequently use or make memes using art from her stickers or from other media featuring the character.⁶⁾ It's presumed that she chose this character due to being a fan of chaos and absurdity like her friend Dolby.

As Skittle-chan

Pao would roleplay as the short-lived LARP Skittle-chan in June 2021, copying the character down to her mannerisms and admin-begging created by the YouTuber Beluga out of boredom. As Skittle-chan she would join servers and beg for admin, and see how long she could last in those servers. She would be banned from a hundred or so servers due to her begging and disrespect towards server admins and regular members. In July, through the help of her friends, she would find herself in the Discord server Cumball and roleplay there, begging for admin before giving up the act in August, returning to her regular persona of Pao.

Future roleplaying

Pao would give up on being Skittle-chan for a short stint in late-August 2021 and then roleplay as Pachinkoneko in early September 2021 and then again as Skittle-chan in mid-September, and abandoning the account for a while and returning as Pao in 2022.
